If your cat's condition is agitated while boarding, what symptoms should we look for?

Purrfect Cat Boarding will follow all medication instructions outlined by the owner and/or vet. We will make every effort to consult with you, the customer, if we need to change any feeding and/or medicating. However, your cat's eating habits can change while being boarded. It is possible your cat will eat less or skip meals, potentially resulting in a missed dose of medication. If this is the case, we will make all efforts to ensure that your cat is receiving its medications and may use pill pockets or a pill popper/gun.

Please note: if your cat is overly aggressive when attempting to medicate, it may be necessary for us to take your cat to its vet to receive proper medical attention.
